A Cappella Choir Ends Successful Southern Trip

More than 3,000 miles in 13 days and 14 concerts. This was the rigorous schedule of the A Cappella Choir during its recent 12-day southern tour.

During the choir's stay in Florida, concerts were presented in Graceville, St. Petersburg, Bradenton, Miami, and Daytona Beach. On Monday, Jan. 31, the choir enjoyed a free day at Clearwater, Fla. Activities included sun-bathing, swimming, golf, and deep-sea fishing.

The next day in Miami the choir again visited the beach for a few hours. That night the audience saw an unusual choir, with red faces and shoulders standing in sharp contrast with the black tuxedos and white choir dresses.

High point of the tour came at the First Congregational Church in St. Petersburg. This church was the original contact for the choir in Florida.

In the church, choir scholarships were awarded to Dale Twinning, Gerald Bosh, Carol Schafer, and Roselyn McElhany. The scholarships cover the expense of vocal instruction for one year and are donated by Harlow Russell. Dr. James P. Kennedy, director of the choir, was presented with an original composition. The composition was dedicated to the choir.

In addition to concerts in Florida the choir presented others in Eaton, Ohio; Crossville, Knoxville, and Cleveland, Tenn.; and Sylacauga, Ala.

'Credentials' Vital Senior Class Told

Credentials is the name given by the Bureau of Appointments to numerous forms now being filled out by seniors.

The credentials stapled into a small booklet are a summary of the student's college career. Courses taken, grades received, extracurricular activities participated in, a photograph of the student, and letters of recommendation are included in the booklet.

Business and industry representatives and school supervisors interviewing job-seeking seniors may wish to examine the interviewee's credentials.

All education seniors are required to have a set of credentials. The bureau recommends that seniors in other majors complete a set also.

Kasten and Weckesser will debate on the affirmative side of the topic, "That the United States Should Extend Diplomatic Recognition to the Communist Government of China." Taking the negative view will be Packard and Rector.

The debate team will be trying to increase its record of 23 wins and 15 losses of the first semester.

IFC Sets Up Rushing Rules; Four Week Rush Period To Start Today

Because second semester rushing is scheduled to begin today, Interfraternity Council has released rules pertaining to the formal rushing period with which all fraternity men and those intending to rush must be familiar.

Only students who have completed one or more semesters at this University and who have a 2.0 average for their previous semester or accumulative of 2.0 shall be considered as eligible for rushing and pledging. A semester is defined as 12 hours of accredited subjects.

Starts Today

The rushing period consists of four and a half weeks immediately following the starting date, today. Each fraternity has been assigned two smoker dates for this period.

During the rushing period each fraternity house will be open to rushees only from 7 to 11:30 p.m. on the assigned smoker dates, from 4 to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday when six rushees may be invited to dinner, from 7 to 12:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays when six rushees may be invited to the house.

During the rushing period no fraternity man may enter a freshman dormitory for rushing purposes.

Illegal Smoker

Any association of one or more fraternity men with more than six rushees, except on the specified smoker dates, constitutes an illegal smoker in a fraternity house. No rush parties may be held off-campus. Any off-campus association of one or more rushees with one or more fraternity men shall constitute an illegal rush party.

Any real or alleged violation of the rules shall be considered as grounds for prosecution and punishment of the real or alleged violator. Any violation must be reported to IFC within 24 hours of the violation.

The vice-president of IFC is the permanent chairman of the Enforcement Committee. One member of the executive council of the IFC shall prosecute any case involving an alleged violation.

Rules Enforcement

Every member of a recognized fraternity on this campus shall be considered a member of the Rushing Rules Enforcement Committee and in this capacity every member has the right and responsibility to report any violation of the rushing rules.

Any man may be deplored or be deplored by a fraternity by doing so at the dean of student's office. The other party to the deplored will be notified, and the deplored will take effect in one week. Once a man has been deplored a fraternity he will not be eligible to rush again until the completion of an additional full semester.

The following is the schedule for the activities which has been set up by Bob Smith, chairman of Greek Week.

Monday, April 18, will be the night for exchange dinners. A new method will be used this year. In past years it has been the custom to send only two members from each fraternity to represent them. To provide for better discussion and relations, the representative body will consist of 15 members.

Wednesday, April 20, will be the night of the Panhellenic Banquet to be held at the Commons.

The Interfraternity Council Banquet will be held Thursday, April 21. This year the banquet will be held in the Bowling Green American Legion Hall.

Saturday will be an open night. This may be used, if so desired, by sororities and fraternities for combined parties.

May Sing Climax

The climax of Greek Week will be the May Sing on Sunday, April 24. Twelve men will represent each fraternity in this contest. To fill in the time, while the judges are balloting, the top three quartets of the Phi Delta Theta Barbershop Harmony contest will sing. The top three places of this contest went to Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, and Theta Chi. Chairman of this event is Ray Preston, Sigma Nu.

Every greek will pay $1.50 to help pay for the expenses for this week plus an assessment of $25 on each sorority and fraternity.

Flu Bug Strikes BG; Hospital Now Filled Up

Beginning last week end students with flu and bad colds entered the hospital in more than average numbers, according to Dr. Dorothy B. Chamberlin.

The hospital is now full, and several students have been sent home with instructions for treatment.

The flu cases are still increasing but has not reached epidemic proportions, Dr. Chamberlin said.

Instructions as to home treatment will be released later, she said.

Student Court Stresses Auto Registration

Everyone must register their automobiles as a condition of enrollment, emphasized Sam Martin, chief justice of the Student Court. Students who do not have insurance or the automobile registration fee should make some arrangement with Chief of Police William J. Rohrs.

Proceeds from the $25.00 automobile registration fines go to the Kohl Loan Fund, available to students on the same basis as other university loans, need and scholarship, disclosed Robert E. McKay, financial aid counselor.

Unknown Donor Swells March Of Dimes Fund

The March of Dimes fund at the University was swelled with a check for $100 from an individual, Robert Lauer, co-chairman of the polio drive on the campus, said.

In presenting the check, the donor said, "More than dimes are needed to fight polio." The person giving the check asked that his name be withheld.

The first contribution to the fund was made Nov. 5, Lauer said. This was $90.80 collected at the Interfraternity Barbershop Sing held in the Main Auditorium and sponsored by Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

BG Sophomore Dies In Auto Accident

John Randall Ace, 19, sophomore, was killed Sunday evening when the car he was driving went out of control on Kramer Rd., one mile east of U.S. Route 25.

Ace, a resident of Bowling Green, lost control of his car, which skidded 216 feet and crashed into a tree, sheriff's deputy Ray Collier said.

The vehicle burst into flames and the blaze was extinguished by the Portage Volunteer Fire Department. Ace was pronounced dead on arrival.

He had attended Ohio State University as a freshman.

Murray Appoints 6 To Fill Vacancies On Editorial Staff

Six appointments have been made to the editorial staff of The B-G News for the second semester of 1955 by editor Gerald Murray.

John Tite has been promoted to a Friday issue editor's post resulting from the resignation of Fran McLean. Tite has been an assistant issue editor for one semester and the circulation manager of the News for two years. As a freshman he won the outstanding freshman in journalism award at the 1954 Publications Banquet.

Assistant Issue Editors

Filling the vacancy created by Tite's promotion, Mike Bricker is now working as an assistant issue editor for alternating Tuesday issues. Herb Moskowitz has been appointed to an assistant issue editor's post on Friday issues. He replaces Jan Crouch, who withdrew from the University.

Following resignation of Carol Tanner as society editor for Friday papers, her assistant, Marcia Karszewski, has been moved up to that position. Miss Tanner had served the News since her sophomore year as society editor. Sara Banks has been appointed assistant to Miss Karszewski.

New Sports Assistant

Upon resignation of John Behrens as assistant sports editor for Friday issues, James Davis has been appointed to take over that position. Davis is also sports editor of the Key this year.

Temporary Heating Speeds Dorm Work

Temporary heating has been installed in the new men's dormitory to facilitate interior work, according to Paul Ryan, superintendent for the Knowlton Construction Co.

Brick work on the fourth, third, and second floors is completed and the men have started work on the first floor, he said.

Plastering of 16 rooms and construction of four sets of stairs is finished. The men still have to build one more set of stairs. All the marble window sills and bath partitions have been put in and the electrical transformer rooms are now in working order, Mr. Ryan said.

Improvisation Key To Brubeck 4

Four men, thinking and acting as one, yet each retaining his own personality. That is the Dave Brubeck Quartet.

Brubeck, top jazz personality in the nation, will bring his famed combo to the Main Aud. on Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 8 p.m.

No Set Program

The quartet uses no set program, and is liable to improvise on anything from a popular new tune to an old favorite. No matter how many times they play a number, each version is greatly different from the others, as a tune is never improvised the same way twice.

Among the numbers played most often by the group are "Star dust," "Balcony Rock," "Don't Worry 'Bout Me" and "These Foolish Things."

Brubeck says that the group plays differently for different types of audiences. According to Dave, a college group is not like a night club crowd. When it is playing for college audiences, the quartet's tempo tends to become faster; the playing more explosive and purely emotional.

Four Years Old

Formed just four short years ago, the quartet has soared to nationwide popularity. Brubeck has given several concerts at colleges in this area. His recordings are available on the Columbia and Fantasy labels.

Reserved seat tickets for the concert will be on sale in the Well Monday through Wednesday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. A limited number may be available the evening of the performance.

Six Women Appointed To Magazine Board

Six Bowling Green State University women have been appointed to the national college board of a woman's magazine.

Among the 700 students who competed with applicants from all over the country to win places on the board, are Betty Bellaire, Mary Jeanne Connelly, Merle Flannery, Nancy Jane Hartman, Anne Potoky, and Julia Reinemeyer.

The same magazine has announced that the correct deadline for its fiction contest is March 1. Incorrect deadlines were given on some data released.

BOOK DISCUSSION

Edith Hamilton's book "The Greek Way to Western Civilization," will be discussed by the Book and Coffee Hour in the Rec Hall at 4 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 17.

Dr. Emerson C. Shuck, professor of English, said it is not necessary to have read the book to participate in the session. The

A Book Rental Plan?

Incoming freshmen are sometimes amazed to find their first semester's books are often as expensive as to total $40. The general student outlook is one of optimism, however, that ensuing semesters will not total nearly so much when most courses require only one text.

No matter how long this optimism may last, whether it be two or seven semesters, the totals for books will more than likely average between $25 to $30. Instead of decreasing, the costs of one-text courses seem to rise, or at least, remain on a level of about $6 each.

Considering the information and knowledge contained in a single volume for a college-level textbook, many could be much more expensive. There is no doubt that the manufacture of the books are of high quality. Furthermore, there is much evidence that the Bookstore succeeds in selling many volumes at prices slightly lower than the publishers' list prices.

No matter which way you look at the situation, however, textbooks are expensive, and generally a full semester's collection of texts is considerably higher than the average student expects.

This complaint, of course, has no reflection on the service the Bookstore has continued to give the students; for it has given good service considering the amount of space and rush periods to which it is subjected.

A recent article in The Collegio of Kansas State Teachers College, which has been brought to our attention, presents a plan used on that campus, which is slightly smaller than Bowling Green, which is enticing.

The school has had an effective book rental program in operation since September of 1951. At first only freshmen and sophomores enjoyed the use of the book rental plan, but in 1952 juniors were added, the seniors in 1953, and finally the graduate students in 1954.

The rental of books is optional. Students may purchase books if they care to do so. They may also rent the books for a semester and buy them at the end of that semester. Each student pays a rental fee which has recently been raised from $4 to $5 for the semester, and graduates now pay $6 instead of $4.

"The book rental plan is an economical one that is indeed welcome to students and parents," Rees H. Hughes, the college president, recently commented. The rental system is operated purely as a service agency on a self-sustaining basis, and the rental price decreases or increases depending upon the income and costs.

A record of book rentals is kept, and students are required to return their used books at the end of the semester.

The system is an interesting one. Perhaps a University committee could study the possibilities, the advantages and disadvantages, of a book rental plan on this campus.

Ski And Skate Club Members Journey To Michigan Ski Area

A new and exciting sport was introduced to several Bowling Green students, when the newly formed Ski and Skate Club made their first trip to a skiing area.

Fifteen members of the club left here Jan. 28, and spent three days at the Caberfae Winter Sports Area, at Cadillac, Mich. Here, beginners and experts alike found skiing to their liking.

Many members, on skis for the first time, experienced some difficulty at first in controlling the additional six feet attached to their feet. But after some time spent in practice and a considerable amount of time spent in close contact with the snow, all mastered the fundamentals of skiing.

Five members, Lynn Pahulus, Birgitta Persson, Erv Bacon, Bruce Clement, and Ron Soule extended their stay an extra day.

Other members making the trip were Mary Ann Dalton, Syd Howard, Barb Donnelly, Julie Reinemeyer, Gayle Myers, Jan Abele, Paul Wagner, Don Britton, Bud Schantz, and Larry Vogel.

Birgitta Persson, a student from Sweden, summarized the ski trip as, "I loved it all—the weather, the snow, the friendships, the fun. But best of all, skiing again."

Reams Tells Group That Independent Status Adventurous

Not even Abraham Lincoln could get his new Republican party on the ballot, or qualify as an independent within nine months before a general election if he were in Ohio today under the conditions he faced in Illinois in 1854, said Frazier Reams, former congressman and member of the University Board of Trustees. Mr. Reams made this statement last Wednesday night, Feb. 8, at the annual banquet of Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary.

Mr. Reams, who served two terms in the House with the 82nd and 83rd Congress, was made an honorary initiate by the political science group. He spoke on "An Adventure In Independence."

"The destruction of the ability of voters to get an independent candidate on the ballot by petition is evidence of the danger of hardening of the arteries of our system of government. It is not the free expression of the public will as the founders intended," he said.

While the two party system has much to recommend it to the American people, he said, the law in Ohio should be restored to where independent voters can place a candidate on the general election ballot by petition when parties have failed to give voters a good choice in the primary.

Art Panel Discusses Sculpture Exhibition

Discussing the achievements portrayed in two dimension by contemporary sculptors at the exhibition, "Sketches for Sculpture," four faculty members conducted a panel discussion at the Art Guild meeting Monday night in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Otto Oevirk and Anthony Vlahantones, instructors in art, and Robert R. Wigg and Robert Bone, assistant professors of art, discussed the attempts and results of the artists to portray in light and dark the feelings and qualities of the sculptures. Following the symposium panel discussion and showing of the exhibition, student members commented on the drawings which will remain in the Fine Arts Gallery through Saturday, Feb. 26.

The first of its kind held at Bowling Green State University, the sculpture show was planned to be displayed by drawing because it would be impossible to ship the art pieces themselves. The exhibit exemplifies the relationship between sculpture and fine draftsmanship in the ink, wash, crayon, chalk, and mixed-technique drawings assembled by the School of Fine Arts of Ohio State University. The Art Guild plans to have three art movies shown at its next meeting Feb. 16.

Cease Drowsing, Start Browsing Through Latest Library Books

By JAN CROUCH

To ease the pain of new semester frustrations, browse through some of the newest light reading, soon to be on the shelves at the University Library. The latest editions present a relaxing and amusing array of material.

Currently a good seller is B. A. Botkin's "Sidewalks of America," a collection of folklore, legends, songs, sagas, traditions, customs, and sayings of city folk. It is a combination of voices of the street, from the market place to the tenement, factory to saloon, not forgetting the children's sidewalk characters. Yarns and personalities from forgotten books, magazines, and news are recalled in this charming kaleidoscope of people at work and play.

Humor Collection

"An Encyclopedia of Modern American Humor," edited by columnist Bennett Cerf, includes quotations and anecdotes from James Thurber, E. B. White, Will Rogers, Mark Twain, Clarence Day, and other prominent American philosophers and writers, known for their homespun wit.

Sports lovers will be interested in reading the late Grantland Rice's "The Tumult and the Shouting," which can be adequately summed up by the author as "My Life in Sport." Competing for first place in sports is "100 Greatest Sport Heroes," including the life stories of immortal athletes in baseball, football, basketball, boxing, golf, tennis, track, swimming, hockey, skiing, and others.

Last Words

Compiled by Edward S. LeCompte, "Dictionary of Last Words" is the first of its kind since 1901. It presents a collection of quotations that are in each case the last recorded words of famous characters in history, according to a source which is always specified. It is interesting to note while leafing through its contents to see the notable contrasts and comparisons of dying words. There is everything from Leopold II's, "I am hot," to the last phrase uttered from Lepelletier, "I am cold."

Lowrie Gets Grant For Dating Studies

Dr. S. H. Lowrie, professor of sociology and recipient of a $925 grant from the University, has begun his research on dating problems which he hopes to complete within the next two years.

Dr. Lowrie has three objectives. First, he wants to check the accuracy of Ohio statistics on dating in comparison to other sections of the country. Second, he will try to find differences which are characteristic of different sections of the country, and third, Dr. Lowrie wishes to draw conclusive facts on the dating problem and apply them in the marriage relations courses.

Dr. Lowrie's method is to gather data in the upper grades of high schools in cities of 100,000 to 200,000 population in various sections of the country.

Some of the questions which make up the data sheets that are mailed to the various schools are: When do teenagers begin dating? When do teenagers begin going steady? How frequently do they date? Who begins dating at a younger age, boy or girl?

Dr. Lowrie has collected data from Texas and North Carolina and expects 15,000 replies.

Minnesota's Bearded Foresters Invade Campus, Measure Coeds

By PATRICIA GUTHMAN

University of Minnesota's main campus was invaded a few weeks ago by 40 bearded forestry students, whose objective was to caliper coeds. Calipering involved the measurement of vital statistics with a wooden device used for measuring the width of tree trunks.

The engineering students, traditional enemies of the foresters, showed little response this year other than throwing a few snowballs. A few years ago, the engineers threw green paint over the foresters' "Blue Ox." Last year the foresters allowed the engineers to capture a frozen mud blarney stone (sacred to the later group), hoping that the stone would melt when it was taken inside. The engineers were not tricked.

The annual carnival at Mount Union College featured a poster filled with real legs for a ring toss, a miniature golf course, a variety show, and a penny toss. One booth that was popular was the "Throw and see her go," where a coed was dropped in to a pile of hay. The evening was climaxed by a dance.

"I think a teacher Has the only profession With no worries at all For the client's secession. The doctor worries If his patient will die; The lawyer worries If his client will fry. But the teacher has students Who will always be there Though every last one Is asleep in his chair."—stolen First student: "Let's cut philosophy today."

Second student: "Can't I need the sleep."—University of Buffalo's Spectrum.

Johnny Long and his orchestra are going to play for the Military Ralph Marterie's orchestra is appearing at a similar dance at Kent. Buddy Morrow and his RCA Victor dance orchestra are featured at the IFC Ball at Ohio Northern University.

The librarian at Westminster College recently made this announcement. "Kissing is positively prohibited in the library cloakroom. This situation is too embarrassing for people getting their wraps. Violators will have their privileges suspended." (Library, that is).

Students at the University of Alberta are engaged in their annual one-day attempt to buy out the entire stock of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind confection stand in the student union.

While the Campus Cop at Utah State College was guarding the student parking lot from vandalism, somebody stole the windshield wipers off of his car.

"Are they very strict in college?" "Strict? You remember Jonesey? Well, he died in class, and they propped him up until the lecture ended."—Spectrum of University of Buffalo.

To those who don't realize how well-off they are, we offer this little item. A story in the Chicago Maroon announced that apartments for married couples are available at a reduced rental rate. These furnished two-room apartments will rent from $65 to $80. The rent being reduced from $115. Children and pets are not allowed. (They hardly make those kind no more).

GO GREYHOUND

The question last week in the Bowling Reporter column of Bowling Green High School's Scarlet Parrot was, "What is your opinion of high school students dating college students?"

One male student replied: "I think the girls should, because they might get some new ideas for their next date."

Been having trouble finding a seat in the library lately? The 1,400 students at Baldwin-Wallace College have greater problems, their library which was built in 1894 seats only 47. At the present time the college officials are trying to raise money for a new library.

Besides not having enough seats, there isn't enough room for the books. The books are stored in five different buildings scattered all over the campus. (Do library assistants use bicycles?)

Falcons Trip Rockets In Sports Arena Thriller

BG Rallies In Second Half To Beat TU, 61-58

By BILL COOPER

The Bowling Green Falcons rose to the occasion and grounded the Rockets from Toledo Wednesday night, 61 to 58, in BG's home game at the Toledo Sports Arena. Trailing by 10 points at halftime, the Falcons came back to close the gap and finally overtake the Rockets with 1:55 remaining in the game.

The Falcons got off to a slow start and thus were unable to threaten before the intermission. In the early minutes they were down 15-3 and the outlook was gloomy. The small crowd set back ready to witness a complete shellacking by the TU team.

Dakich Ices Game

Tom Dakich, set-shot artist, was the man who iced the game for the Falcons in the waning minutes of the game. He calmly stepped to the foul line with 1:55 seconds remaining in the contest and BG down by one point. He netted his first and also the second to put the Falcons ahead for the first time.

Dakich came in to replace Jim Tucker who committed four fouls early in the game. "Suitcase" quickly went to work with his drives and deadly set-shots. He totaled eight in the first half and came back with 10 in the second half for a total of 18.

Caged The Decisive Basket

Max Chapman caged the decisive basket for the BG cagers after Dakich put them ahead for the first time. With just seconds remaining in the contest, Chapman took a pass under the basket and layed it in for the basket that gave the Falcons a well-earned win.

Ray Is Outstanding

Jim Ray, TU's outstanding guard, almost individually won the game for the Rockets. Ray, supposedly slowed down by the flu, flipped in 24 points in the first half to almost outscore the whole BG team.

However, in the second half he was guarded closer and consequently was unable to get the shots like he did the first half. He got one field goal and four foul shots for a total of 30 points for the evening. Ray easily took top honors in this department.

Falcons Rally

Bowling Green came back after the intermission and looked like a completely different ball club. They closed the margin and kept within striking distance until Dakich put them out in front.

With a three point lead, Toledo attempted to freeze the ball as they did against the Falcons earlier this season. BG desired none of this and quickly gained control of the ball. From then on it was a nip-and-tuck game, which is typical for TU-BG contests.

Chapman, rebounding terrifically, was close behind Dakich in the point totals. Chapman pleaded the nets with six in the first half and 10 in the second half for a total of 16. Probably the most promising part of Chapman's performance was his defense. He played the game with two fouls and got his share of rebounds, both offensively and defensively.

Rogers Is Steady

Bill Rogers, played his usual floor game as well as chiming in with 10 vital points. Rogers garnered all of his points in the first half. He made up for this however, with his generalship on the floor which kept the Falcons in the ball game.

Jim Tucker was off his usual pace and contributed only six points to the cause. He picked up four fouls and had to set out most of the game. Lanny Miles also was below par, but managed to come up with three points.

Benning Connects

Al Benning, replacing Tucker in the late minutes of the game, got one field goal that kept the Falcons within striking distance. His long two-handed set swished the cords and the BG team was again close to the high-flying Rockets. Shortly after Benning's bucket, the Falcons went ahead, never to be passed.

Sonny Stoneburner and Tom Nichols contributed their share to the Toledo attack. Stoneburner, lofty sophomore center, registered nine while Nichols flipped in ten.

Kiefer Below Par

Little Joe Kiefer, who gave the Falcons trouble in their first game of this year, was held to just three points. Russ Bierley rounded out the Toledo scoring with six counters.

The Falcons thus won their home game with Toledo even though it was played in the Sports Arena. BG's MAC record now stands at four wins and five losses while Toledo dropped their eighth game in eleven starts in the Mid-American Conference.

TU-BG Sidelights

By DICK BUDD

Another year of the unpredictable TU-BG basketball frays is history, and this was no different from all the others. Thanks to Bowling Green's spirited faculty and townspeople, the Falcon cheering section was lively as ever.

One lone BG cheerleader and Freddie Falcon showed on the scene to inspire the Bowling Green rooters. Without qualms or hesitation cheerleader Nancy Ford put the fans through their paces. A lot of courage and a lot of spirit, Nancy Ford deserves the thanks of the entire campus.

Wednesday night's game marked the forty-ninth meeting between the two rivals. The series started in 1916. The schools broke off relations in 1936. At that time TU had a 18-16 edge in the series. Since 1948, the year the Peace Pipe was introduced, the Falcons have won 10 of 15 games to give them an overall edge, 26-23.

Wednesday's game approached last year's exciting battle at the Sports Arena when BG came from behind with 2:45 left and squeezed out a 75-71 win. The Falcons defeated the Rockets twice last year—the only conference team to do so.

Since the resumption of the series in 1948, Toledo has never been able to win both games of a season.

The big Peace Pipe smoked by BG News and TU Collegian staff members was filled with two packages of tobacco, and could have held two more with ease. The diameter of the bowl was so large that the pipe had to be lit with two large flaming pieces of Cellophane. Freddie Falcon came close to having his feathers singed when the flames came leaping from the pipe.

A small group of loyal BG fans attempted to bring the pipe back home after the game by offering to haul it to the Toledo fieldhouse for the Collegian staff members. Needless to say the plot failed.

Cagers Travel To Milwaukee For Marquette Game

The Bowling Green Falcons travel to Milwaukee Saturday night to face the nationally ranked Marquette Warriors. Marquette will be a slight favorite to gather in win No. 18, but will be under heavy pressure by the underdog Falcon quintet which is aiming for an upset.

The Warriors have compiled the longest winning streak of the 54-55 season for major colleges. After losing the opener to Michigan State, Marquette has run over all opposition for 17 straight wins.

BG's Lineup

Coach Jack Nagle will start Hopfensperger, 6-4, and Schulz, 6-6, at forwards, Bugalski, 6-2, and Waleczak, 6-0, at guards, and Rand, 6-8, at center.

Marquette is the third nationally ranked team that the Falcons have faced this season. Dayton and Duquesne are also rated among the nation's top 20 basketball teams.

BG Out For Upset

Bowling Green will attempt to gain another upset over the high-flying Marquette Warriors. Last year the Falcons were underdogs but managed to defeat the Warriors, 86-79. BG has won six of the ten games between these two schools.

Nators Defeat Albion; Meet Ohio Tomorrow

The Falcons' swimming team broke three dual meet records Wednesday as they overwhelmed Albion College, 61 to 22. Records were set in the 50 yard free style, 150 yard individual medley, and the 440 yard free style event.

In the first event of the afternoon, BG's fine 300 yard medley relay team consisting of Paul Dressel, Dick Rose, and Paul Atkinson, out swam the Albion team to take five points. Their winning time was 3:09.2 which Albion's time was 3:24.8.

BG Wins 220 Free Style

Jim O'Connor and Dave Hamilton took the first two places in the 220 yard free style for eight more points for the Falcons. O'Connor's winning time was 2:24.4 while Hamilton was close behind with a time of 2:26.3. Mills picked up Albion's first points by taking third place. His time was 2:42.3.

Don Kepler broke the 50 yard free style dual meet record of 25.2 by winning in the record time of 24.0. Ralph Carbonero won three points by taking the second spot. Albion got another point as Dunscombe finished third.

Seidl Sets Records

Karl Seidl, sophomore ace, set another dual meet record as he touched the wall in 1:42.1 to eclipse three and six-tenths seconds off the old record. Dressel picked up second place for the Falcons. Albion again got one point as they picked up third place. At this time in the meet BG held a 29-3 lead.

In the diving event, Bowling Green picked up eight more points. Rose took top honors and was followed by Tom Glennon. Albion's Heppenstahl picked up a marker with a third.

Seidl Again Wins

Seidl took another first place as he splashed home in the winning time of 58.0, in the 100 yard free style event. Carbonero took second place and BG had eight more points. Albion got another counter for third place.

Albion took its first of two first places in the 200 yard back stroke. They got five points for this as Benz touched home in 2:33.9. Atkinson came in second for three ship Trophy which is a rotating trophy between the BG and OU teams. A former swimmer at Bowling Green, Steve Alex, donated the trophy because of the keen competitive spirit which exists between the Falcons and Bobcats swimmers. Steve coached at OU for two years after his graduation from BG and will be on hand tomorrow for the presentation.

Ohio U. finished second to BG in the MAC Relays, so the meet should be close. They won over Ball State and lost to Pittsburgh. The Falcons have a five and two record, but anything can happen when these two schools are swimming.

The coaching staff predicts plenty of excitement and some new records set. This meet may have a lot to do with determining the eventual winner of the MAC.

Various Valentine's Day Customs Evolve Through Many Centuries

Notice to all young lovers—Monday is Feb. 14, the day all lads and lasses look forward to as "their day" each year.

Through countless centuries, Valentine's Day has grown in tradition. It casts a spell that even reaches beyond prison walls. One of the earliest valentines was the handiwork of the Duke of Orleans, created when he was imprisoned at Agincourt in England in the fifteenth century. His creation is now on display at the British Museum.

The creation of a new and different Valentine often taxes the imagination of a young swain. More novel is the method of delivery practiced in different countries. In Elizabethan England, a valentine was attached to an orange or apple and thrown through the window of some eligible lady. Meanwhile the young lady prepared a charm for pleasant dreams. She ate a hard-boiled egg and went to bed with bay leaves fastened to her pillow, with hopes she would dream of her future husband.

The French of the same period didn't throw their valentines around. They were busy creating giant, handmade, lace-trimmed affairs for their lady love.

Valentines appeared early in America. Esther Howard was the first U.S. publisher of valentines. She began her career in 1840 when she printed a "Leap Year Valentine" for one of her schoolmates at Mt. Holyoke College in Massachusetts.

By 1857, valentines were really the rage, for over three million were mailed in the United States in that year. Their prices ranged from three cents to over thirty dollars each. Half were sentimental in nature; the other half, comic.

Different symbols on valentines have come to signify various intentions, with the resulting outgrowth of a special valentine language. A rose on a valentine is purported to signify love; a fan means "open your heart," and a ribbon requests a promise.
